GP Home-to-Base Expenses

FAQs

How many days can I claim?

Please refer to HEE guidance for more details.

How far back can this be backdated?

You can back date your claims for a maximum of 3 months.

Can this be claimed if Excess Mileage has been claimed?

Please note that if you are claiming excess mileage under a relocation and excess travel policy, then you should subtract the above amount from each eligible journey under this policy. The total number of miles being claimed for should reflect the mileage you have incurred minus the number of miles being reimbursed through a relocation and excess travel policy.

Can this be claimed if I travel to work using public transport?

Unfortunately, no. This is for GP Trainees only who travel in their own car.

How do I claim for this?

All claims should be made using the EASY expenses system.
